WASHINGTON, JUNE 6, 1897.

SAVED FROM HIS PRIENDS. The reception of Mr. O'Brien in New York, though not so violently demonstrative as it was in some portions of Canada, had its unpleasant aspects nevertheless. But the Irish editor has shown quite as muc's tact and wisdon in the latter case as he exhibited coolness and courage in the former. By identifying himself with Saturday evening he would not only have destroyed his own standing hed influence as an alwords of the cause of Ireland, but have dealth he cause of Ireland, but have dealther the cause itself a possibly fatal blow.

The managers of the Union Square meeting of course both no such view meeting of course both no such view.

meeting of course took no such view of the matter. They doubtless desired to do honor to a distinguished visitor and at the same time make him useful to themselves. But even the London Times, if it had been intrusted with the entire munipulation of the scheme, could have devised no trap so fatal as was unwittingly set at Mr. O'Brien's feet for him to walk into. We say un-wittingly, yet it is almost inconcsivwittingly, yet it is almost inconceiv-nble how the committee on resolutions should have failed to see the impro-priety of injecting Henry George and Edward McGlynn into the proceedings of a meeting ostensibly called for the specific purpose of extending William O'Brien a sympathetic welcome.

O'Brien a sympathetic welcome.

To have participated in the meeting, in the slightest degree, would have been construed at home as an indorsement
of Henry George's land theories, concerning which the Home Rulers are snything but a unit in their favor. It would also have committed him, at least in appearance, to the interests of least in appearance, to the interests of Dr. McGlynn, and made him party to a quarrel in which the clergy of Ireland, if they have ever given the question any consideration at all, would surely be found arrayed on the side of the Pope's authority over his own Church.

More than all this, Mr. O'Brien did not care to be present at a meeting pre-sided over by John Mackin, who is understood to be an apologist for, if not a defender of, the Phoenix Park n urders. He appreciated the hospitality of his friends, but prudently de muried to their judgment. Hall he done otherwise—hall he not protested with an unnitstakeable emphasis, but at the same time with marked dignity. against being compromised in this matter—had he yielded so much as a hair's breadth to the blundering folly of the Union Square Committee, it would have been all up with William O'Erlen as a Home Rule leader. To have perished by the club of a Toronto Orangeman would have been a less miserable fate. But his good sense

THE Army officers who awarded the several standards of marit to the con testing companies at the recent military drill were suggested by General Sheri-dan from his knowledge of their pro-ficiency in drill tactics. During the several days of exhibition, the judges, each for himself and without the knowledge of the others, made sepa-rate records on a prescribed formula of tactics, in accordance with the West Point code, and not till the drill was completed did they compare notes. Then the conclusion was reached by adding up the marks of merit of all the judges and awarding the prizes and rank of proficiency from the best average of the combined individual reports of the several judges. This would seem to be entirely fair and con-

Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department is unable to account for the exercise of executive elemency in the case of Brockway, the notorious forger and counterfeiter. His career has been one of continuous crime, without a re-deeming symptom of penitence or re-form. He has been half a dozen times sent to the penitentiary only to be dealt with finally as an injured citizen de-serving of sympathy. It does seem a little strange that a man whose hand has always been against his fellow man should bean object of teniency. He who makes a business of imposing spurious money on a community is worse than a burglar and infinitely more to be despised and guarded against than the average thief.

Tun Court to General Term having decided that the law of '64, relative to Sunday closing, is not and never was law, the Commissioners are now think ing about going twenty years further back for another statutory relic on which to act. We do not see any great necessity for such pertinacity in the matter. Why don't the Commissioners wait until they can get a decent, well-considered law through Congress that will cover the case?

Tire Copard Steamer Umbria, which THE CUBARO Steamer Unitria, which arrived in New York Saturday evening, astonished herself by the quickness of her passage, being only six days, four hours and twelve minutes from Queenstown, which beats all previous records between Queenstown and New York, coming this way. Had she not gone 47 mt'es out of her usual course for fear of leebergs, she would have arrived a couple of hours sooner. THE disturbance which General Tuttle is raising about the contemplated visit of the President to St. Louis will doubtless have the effect of duplicating the crowd of visitors: but it is unfortunate that any division should be projected into the councils of the Grand Army on this account. It is quite certain that a majority of Union veterans even if they do not altogether agree with the President in opinion, have The Evening Critic Publishing Company. proper respect for the Presidential office, and will countenance no insule to its Incumbent. General George W Averill of the Army of the Potomac says that Tuttle represents nobody bu himself, which is not strictly true. He has a following, of course, but it is not likely that he will be able to swing a very large or influential wing of the Grand Army.

Thu new postal convention with Mexico only awaits due proclamation by the President to become operative. Under this arrangement ordinary let-ters will be charged two cents and parels of eight ounces ten cents. treaty will doubtless effect a large increase of correspondence between the ficial importance to our mutual com-mercial interests. Newspapers will be transmitted on the same conditions and at the same rates as now sent within the United States.

Anothen woman is to be hanged in New York for killing her husband. It may be said that the recent execution of George Disque, at Jersey City, for the murder of his wife, will about off-set the proposed strangulation of Mrs. Cignarale; but it still seems a little odd that so many robust assassing should be enjoying life at Sing Sing.

A RECEPTION such as was never b fore accorded to a Catholic prelate in this country awaits Cardinal Gibbons on his return to Balifmore to morrow.
